DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-3, 5-8, 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,235,453 issued to You et al. (hereinafter, You).

You teaches a method for removing photoresist with a reducing plasma of hydrogen, which can include a minor component of oxygen, while maintaining a substrate temperature of 250°-270° C. You also teaches that nitrogen water and CF₄ may be components of the plasma gas mixture. You teaches that the presence of oxygen increases the rate at which the photoresist is removed. You teaches that the photoresist is removed without damaging an underlying low-k dielectric layer. See column 1, line 45 - column 2, line 13; column 4, lines 12-42; column 5, lines 42-47; and column 6, lines 6-10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4, 9-11 and 13-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over You.

Art Unit: 1763

You does not teach the specific type of plasma apparatus that is used for removing photoresist with a reducing plasma. You does not provide details of the process condition under which the plasma apparatus is operated. As such, You does not teach the use of an ICP, μ -wave (i.e. a radical rich, remote plasma), or capacitively coupled plasma (e.g., a typical RF powered shower electrode) or the biasing of the substrate supporting, pedestal electrode.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use the apparatus and conditions of claims 4, 9-11 and 13-20 these claims are directed to standard operating condition of standard plasma apparatus and You is directed to a generic plasma process. Therefore, the skilled artisan would expect You's teachings to relevant to the operation of standard plasma equipment under standard operating conditions.
